

Internship/s for 2024

Bendigo Psychology is a Private Practice located in central Victoria and we are currently calling for applications for our internship program for 2024. This is a paid fulltime position with a minimum of 20 hours of direct client contact per week with full benefits including paid holidays, sick leave, superannuation and professional insurance. The position includes full supervision and all other requirements to successfully complete your training.

Expectations and Duties

- Provide evidence based interventions to referred clients
- Develop or research relevant homework tasks for individual presenting issues
- Comply with the APS Code of Ethics/Supervisor standards for reporting writing and note taking
- Liaise with other health professionals, carers and external agencies relevant to the clients
- Attend weekly supervision sessions and present required paperwork as per AHPRA guidelines in a timely manner
- Complete professional development in accordance with AHPRA registration requirements
- Assist with front of house administration
- Administer, score and interpret psychological assessments
- Follow reporting obligation as directed by referrer or Supervisor

Clients, Referrers and Services

- Victims of Crime
- Employee Assistance Program: brief counselling, group debriefing and group wellbeing presentations
- GP referrals
- School supportive counselling and assessment
- NDIS

What we offer:

- Reimbursement of up to $70k plus superannuation and entitlements over the twelve months
- Friendly and supportive workplace
- Up to date psychological assessment kits
- Mixed and varied clients
- Fortnightly Group supervision
- Individual Supervision with our Lead Clinician AHPRA Approved Supervisor

Skills and Abilities:

- Knowledge and basic skills in counselling practices and methods
- Ability to plan, implement, evaluate and report activities conducted
- Effective communication skills
- Willingness to travel locally to off site meetings or appointments
- Ability to receive and utilise constructive feedback
- Ability to be flexible as circumstances warrant
- Strong self-awareness
- Willingness to provide telehealth services when appropriate

Please submit applications to: tim@bendigopsychology.com.au

Applications must be willing to obtain a WWCC & go through an interview process